

marina pez vela

Costa Rica's only full-service marina opens in 2009

MARINA PEZ VELA IN QUEPOS, Costa Rica, will soon provide boaters and anglers access to uncharted territory in one of the world's premier coastal destinations. Known for extraordinary beauty and Central America's most coveted sportfishing, Marina Pez Vela offers exclusive access to a boater's paradise.

Designed and owned by sportfishing enthusiasts, Marina Pez Vela will provide a safe haven, and base of operations, for fishing along the Pacific Coast of Central America—opening thousands of miles of ocean that was previously impossible to fish. The tranquil flat waters off the Quepos coastline are renowned for some of the most spectacular sailfishing in the world, offering abundant Pacific sailfish, marlin, tuna, dorado, roosterfish, grouper, cubera and wahoo.

Located along Costa Rica's Pacific Coast, Quepos is a sport-fishing mecca filled with open-air cafés and restaurants, exotic boutique shops, and a legendary port. Surrounded by tropical rainforest, it is also an ideal starting point for activities that range from surfing and sailing, to kayaking, scuba diving, hiking or lounging on the beach. The marina concierge will be happy to plan your on and offshore adventures.

With Phase I recently sold out, buyers around the world are seizing the opportunity to boat, fish and explore this extraordinary destination. In response to buyer demand, Phase II was released in July, which includes 40 slips starting at $175,000.

“We are incredibly excited at buyer demand and enthusiasm about the marina's opening,” states project founder Harold Lovelady. “The combination of our state-of-the-art facility and extraordinary location makes it an obvious choice for boaters and anglers.”

With the inaugural boats expected in early 2009, construction is progressing rapidly on what will be Costa Rica's first, full service marine facility offering all the necessities for serious boating and amenities for non-serious fun including 300 concrete floating slips accommodating boats up to 200 feet; 75 & 200 ton Travel-Lifts; 120 unit dry stack system for boat storage up to 35+ feet; fully staffed maintenance and repair facility with U.S. certified technicians; 24-hour security; ample water; electrical, cable and high speed Internet and restrooms and shower facilities. Amenities such as infinity edge pool, spa, fitness center, shops, restaurants and concierge services are coming soon.
