DESIGN

Danielle Peterson, Brio Design

WE STRIVE TO make your boating experience easy and stress free -- it is a concept we've stood by for nine years and one we hope is evident in our new magazine design. We've worked to expand the unique content of the articles, and make it easier to read and use as a planning tool. As promised we continue to evaluate new boater trends, learn the latest technology and respond to member feedback to bring you more unique services.

We listen to your feedback

We listen to our members and know the new boating trends. To help boaters find the cheapest fuel, we launched a free-fuel pricing program that allows marinas to send their fuel prices directly to www.marinalife.com for anyone to view. We also heard your call for a more user-friendly cruise planning tool, so we created a Cruise Planning Center that minimizes the time and steps needed to plan and book an entire trip.

We are always trying to incorporate new technology into our services

The diverse backgrounds of our staff help to connect with every type of boater and aid in creating travel tools to fit all types of boater needs. Members can now use Google Earth to view detailed approach and buoy information for all of the 8,000 marinas we have listed on www.marinalife.com, provided by EarthNC. We have also created three different ways to search for marinas: by map, an advanced search or the quick find.

New partnerships to expand our unique benefits

We continue to add new marinas and marine-related companies to the member discount program. Most recently, a partnership with Boat US completes the concierge package for Marinalife members. Boat US is offering a half-priced membership and discounts on unlimited towing services to all Marinalife members. The partnership aims to make boating easier and safer for boaters just like you! Another recent partnership with Cruisers Net helps to bring you pertinent Intercoastal Waterway Information straight from the experts.

Here at Marinalife, our dedicated staff can help provide you with an exceptional boating experience. Whether you call our toll-free line (1-800-Rent-A-Slip) or send us an email (info@marinalife.com), we guarantee a quick response by one of our knowledgeable staff members. We hope you use our cruising articles on the Atlantic Intercoastal Waterway, Georgia Coast and the Caribbean to aid you in your next trip. If you're heading to Puerto Rico or Costa Rica in the coming months, be sure to read up on the best marinas, restaurants and activities on the following pages.

Happy Boating!
