NEW MARINAS ON THE HORIZON

Marlin Bay Yacht Club Marathon, FL

Marlin Bay Yacht Club is located in Marathon in the Florida keys, approximately 50 miles from Key West. The centerpiece of the community is the Yacht Club with spa facilities including sauna, steam room, massage and fitness facilities. A lagoon-style pool, Jacuzzi, boardwalk and observation tower are also included. Three yacht basins and a full service marina with an 8700 square foot dock-master facility will serve residents and visitors. The marina will have 115 boat slips to accommodate boats up to 70 feet. The marina is scheduled to open in 2008.

Leeward Marina Resort & Spa Turks and Caicos Islands

Leeward Marina Resort and Spa is a private, gated, destination resort that is part of a 423 acre resort community on the northeast tip of Providenciales in Turks and Caicos. The marina will include a world-class marina operations building and the full amenities of the entire Leeward Marina Resort & Spa including restaurants, swimming pools and beach. The Leeward Marina and its Water Sports Marina are scheduled to open in the Fall of 2007.

Port Gardner Wharf Everett, WA

On the shores of Puget Sound, between Seattle and Vancouver, a new marina community is coming to life. Along with the 2,300+ slips and marina there will be an extraordinary mix of homes, unique shops, restaurants, open-air markets, 18 acres of parks and open spaces, business offices, overnight lodging, and other first-class amenities and services. The new marina is scheduled to open in early 2007.

New Port Tampa Bay Tampa, FL

New Port Tampa Bay located in Tampa, FL will offer more than 1,200 residences, a 300 slip marina and is located in a vibrant urban location that provides easy access to culture and arts, world-class shopping and dining, a major airport and other daily conveniences.

New Port Tampa Bay's marina will be one of the largest on Florida's west coast, with convenient, deep-water access to Tampa Bay and will feature concrete floating docks, concierge-level services and accommodate vessels up to 125 feet in length. Ultimately planned for up to 300 slips, New Port Marina's first phase of development will include approximately 180 slips. The marina is projected to open in 2009.
